A3D Secures Third Department of Defence Printing Purchase Order

Highlights:

- A3D has received its third direct order from the Australian Department of Defence for advanced 3D-printed metal components
- Strengthens A3D's standing as reliable supplier of high-quality 3D printed metal componentry and additive manufacturing solutions within the Defence sector

Aurora Labs Limited ("A3D" or "the Company") (ASX:A3D), is very pleased to announce the receipt of a third direct Purchase Order from the Australian Department of Defence. This order strengthens the strategic relationship between A3D and Defence, highlighting A3D's role as a trusted provider of specialised 3D metal printing services.

This latest order builds on A3D's previous projects with Defence, demonstrating confidence in the Company's ability to deliver. The purchase order is valued at $ 49,800.

Rebekah Letheby, CEO of A3D, commented "This third order is a significant milestone and a testament to the effort our team has put into establishing a strong, dependable relationship with the Department of Defence. It's gratifying to see that our dedication to innovation and quality is not only recognised but is yielding tangible results. We're proud to play a role in enhancing Australia's defence capabilities and look forward to further expanding our contributions in this critical sector."

With this momentum, A3D is well-positioned for continued growth within the Defence sector, supporting Australia's advanced manufacturing capabilities and further establishing its standing as a key supplier of cutting-edge additive manufacturing solutions.
